The right side of the page contains numerous handwritten signatures and marks in blue ink. These include several large, stylized signatures, some of which appear to be official or institutional, and many smaller, more casual signatures. There are also some circular and linear scribbles, possibly indicating corrections or approvals. The handwriting is varied, suggesting multiple individuals have interacted with the document.

At the bottom left of the page, there are three distinct handwritten marks. On the far left is a signature in blue ink. Next to it is a green mark that looks like a stylized 'F' or 'H'. To the right of that is another signature in blue ink. These marks are likely additional signatures or stamps related to the document's processing.
